

Seven Nations, All You People

All you people
Won't you come into the light
There's no need to fight anymore today
All you people
All you people

It seems so strange to me
That when we can talk so clear
We leave so much in doubt
When we can talk so clear
We leave so much in doubt

All you people
While my song is in the air
You're all welcome to share my smoke, my wine
All you people
All you people

And it seems so strange to me
When we can talk so clear
We leave so much in doubt
When we can talk so clear
We leave so much in doubt
And I still wonder what the fussing
And the fighting and the shouting's all about

Na na na na na, all you people
Na na na na na, all you people
Na na na na na, all you people
I'm already gone
So don't wake me because I'm already gone
Don't wake me
I'm already gone
