

Seven Nations, Last Call

last call for alcohol and last chance to save the day last chance to join the party get with us or get away this ain't no laughing matter this ain't no killing joke this ain't no mama's place no step outside and have a smoke it's been a long time due to come so here's to you and here's to everyone last call for alcohol and last chance to get it right last chance come up for air so come on down and join the fight this ain't no invitation this ain't no fatal kiss there's no more isolation turning back there's only this somethin' tells me we're gonna have some fun

so here's to you and here's to everyone

last call for alcohol and last chance to join the world in its ongoing party here we go our flag's unfurled can't say i don't believe it i think i saw it too somewhere between the sports wall street cartoons and gossip news it's been a long long time to come so here's to you i believe our party's just begun
so here's to you and here's to everyone
