

Seven Red Seven, Thinking Of You

I look right through you
And your empty words
Lipstick on letters, you're too kind
I live tomorrow in deja vu
I'm still alone when the day is through
Things change, but one thing stays in my mind
I'm still thinking of you

I hear you whisper
I think the world of you
Playing false intentions all the time
Lost direction, no good no bad
Though I regret everything we had
Yet I know this will haunt me until I die
I'm still thinking of you

You let me, you let me down
I'm still thinking of you
You let me, you let me down
I'm still thinking of you
You let me, you let me down
I'm still thinking of you
You let me, you let me down
I'm still thinking of you

I'm still thinking of you
I'm still thinking of you

(You let me, you let me down)
I'm still thinking of you
(You let me, you let me down)
I'm still thinking of you
(You let me, you let me down)
I'm still thinking of you
(You let me, you let me down)
I'm still thinking of you
(You let me, you let me down)
I'm still thinking of you
(You won't let me down again)
I'm still thinking of you
(You won't let me down again)
I'm still thinking of you
(You won't let me down again)
I'm still thinking of you
(You won't let me down again)
I'm still thinking of you
