

Sevendust, The Past

Beneath the water
that's falling from my eyes lays a soul I've left behind the edge of sorrow was reached but now I'm fine I've filled the hole I had inside

I'll pray it doesn't scream my name so I light a flame and let it breathe the air that kills the shame

I'm up
I'm down
like a rollercoaster racing through my life I've erased the past again

a risky morning
I feel like I'm alive
I can't believe I've made it through this time the edge of sorrow I lived in for some time (lived in for some time) has left the hole I have inside

The burden is I try my hate was the last thing I ever felt or thought I could escape

I'm up
I'm down
like a rollercoaster racing through my life
I've erased the past again
[x2]

You let me in then broke me down the difference is this time around I will not let you see me try

I'm up
I'm down
like a rollercoaster racing through my life
I've erased the past again
[x2]

Erased the past again now Erased the past again

Beneath the water
that has fallen from my eyes
