

Shaded Red, Innocence

Feel my heart it's ever bleeding
Through spear and thorns
I gave you pardon
Won't you take my hand
And hold it as we fly away

I will be there if you called me now
I will run 'til I could run no more
I will hold you and renew your innocence

Though your sin be as red as scarlet
Through burning coals
Your past forgotten
Won't you take My Love
And forever you will live again

I will be there if you called me now
I will run 'til I could run no more
I will hold you and renew your innocence

Come enter in and be washed clean
From the traps that ensnare you
Know a real Love for once your chains now set free
