

Shaded Red, Something

eyes fall down, into nothing calling around to myself losin' ground so slowly, never changing fallin' down on the ground, feeling helpless

hearing a sound, finally found voice of reason

are you lookin' for something that can't be found
that will turn a life around walkin' down into something lost and found by the love of my Savior
