

Shakira feat. Alejandro Sanz, Sombra De Ti (Sha

i'm going to leave that my guitar says all what i don't know how to say for me or maybe it should wait to the insult of the clock i have just planned my end the smiles hurt so much it costs the world to breathe it's that not having you here makes me bad it follows me around the shadow of you

they keep rotating around there all the words that we said and the kisses we didn't give as always today i am
thinking of you

you should know that there are pieces of your mouth unintentionally wanted around here and that i trip everyday without thinking with an old memory more and some new gray history if i can't be with you i can no long be with you every time it becomes harder to be happy

they keep rotatins around there

thinking of you
