Shalamar, Make That Move

Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby

So many times

By holding back I let the good things pass me by And then one day I asked myself the reason why And like an answer from above you came into my life

And showed me one thing for sure With love nothing is certain You got to go for it when you feel it Everybody, everybody needs somebody to love And I choose you, baby, so let's

Make that move right now, baby You only go out once in a lifetime Make that move right now, baby

So natural to

Give in to feelings deep inside when love is due And I knew something was missing 'cause I feel brand new And motivation's in my heart whenever I'm with you

So girl whatever you do
Just remember love at motion
You got to hold on tight
When you know it's right
Everybody, everybody needs somebody to love
And I choose you, baby, so let's

Make that move right now, baby You only go out once in a lifetime Make that move right now, baby The longer you wait on love, the more you'll be without it

Why don't you

(Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move Let's make that move

(Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move Come on Let's make that move

So many times

By holding back I let the good things pass me by And then one day I asked myself the reason why Like an answer from above you came into my life

And that showed me one thing for sure With love nothing is certain You got to go for it When you feel it Everybody, everybody needs somebody to love And I choose you, baby, so let's

Make that move right now, baby You only go out once in a lifetime Make that move right now, baby The longer you wait our love, the more you'll be without it Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby

Make that move right now, baby Make that move, you've got to make that move Make that move right now, baby Come on, baby, come on, pretty baby

Make that move right now, baby I just want you to make that move right now Make that move right now, baby If you make that move with me, I'll be yours eternally

Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby
