you can only go so far, until the bottom falls out all my singing, smiling, pleasure finds me, i'm all right pretty melody, dedicated to God to be called by one Almighty God and take it for granted heard a rumor i guess, but i wanna know who told me so told me serving You replaced me knowing You!

You whispered to Your child today but I haven't got a minute to listen Your child is busy with the work of God and taking Him for granted got a lot to do today, kingdom work's the game i play Lord my serving You replaced me knowing You
