

Shane Barnard, Take My Love

Lord, i'm giving all i am with everything i am holy and annointed one, to You i lift my hands i surrender all i have take my love away, take my love away, take my love away oh Lord, i've given it my best to take my love away if i could run around the world to fan the fire in me if only i could swim the ocean wide to take my lve away from the world and me

take my love away, take my love away, take my love away

i think i read i cannot love the world and love You take my love and plant it deep where life is found in You plant it in the heart of Thee, i'm tired of trying to believe i've worn out all my strategy there's nothing i can do oh Lord to...

take my love away, take my love away, take my love away
take my love away, take my love away, take my love away oh Lord, You've given me Your best so take my love away
