

Shawn Colvin, I'll Say I'm Sorry Now (From 'Heartbreakers')

I'm gonna let you down
I know that now
Make you cry
I know i will
Why should you believe
I would never leave?
Or that I love you still?
For all the by and by
And hard as we try
The bough breaks, and the cradle falls
For everything I do
That will tear at you
Let me, say I'm sorry now
So you can sing our song
You can get it wrong
You can kiss the rock of ages
And in your wildest dreams
You might see between
The liars and the sages
You can walk a while
Down the mystery mile
You can beat the drums of freedom
And in love and war
Through the rush and roar
You just call them like you see 'em