Shelly Poole, Lost In You

In my room I hide safe from this world where the soul in your eyes is making me wild
I cant let them see hold back don't show any signs I got weak that you got to me
Oh no everything's fine
Yeah that's what ill say

And I sure as I believe you make me
Question all my dreams my wonders
Never in my life have I acted such a fool
As sure as I stand here, man I fear
I've never wanted something so bad
Never in my life have I been so lost in you

Don't breathe near my face
It doesn't help when I'm trying so hard to be friends
When you move in so close to me
And I feel you, beautiful
Man I'm aching to pull you into me
Oh but everything's fine
Yeah that's what ill say

Oh it's complicated felling the things I do for you
Always and all day frustrated
Wondering if you have found me out or are feeling me too
