

Sheppard, Something's Missing

I walk a road that no one dares, without the lines, without the facts, hoping for a second chance,
a shot to get another dance, a hand to hold before the end.

I feel the love, I feel the pain (ooh), not enough to make me whole again.
If only I could feel complete, a puzzle and a missing piece gets locked away and buried underneath.

'Cause I know, something is missing,
I know something is missing,
I know something is missing now.

Well I was not a bitter man (ooh), but life I guess had other plans (ooh), Through the glass I see your face (ooh), but behind the eyes an empty space (ooh), cause I fucked up along the way.

'Cause I know, something is missing,
I know something is missing,
I know something is missing now (now).

OooOh, Oh, Oh, Oh, Ahh
OooOh, Oh, Oh, Oh, Aahh

'Cause I know, something is missing,
I know something is missing,
I know something is missing now (now).

'Cause I know, something is missing,
I know something is missing,
I know something is missing now.
