

Shinedown, Breaking Inside

I caught a chill
And its still frozen on my skin
I think about why I'm alone
By myself no one else to explain
How far do I go?
No one knows
If the end is so much better why don't we just live forever?

Don't tell me I'm the last one in line
Don't tell me I'm too late this time

(Chorus)
I don't wanna live
To waste another day
Underneath the shadow Of Mistakes I've made
'Cuz I feel like I'm breaking inside
I don't wanna fall
And say I lost it all
'Cuz maybe theres a part of me
That hit the hall
Leaving pieces of me behind
And I feel like I'm breaking inside

Out here nothings clear
Except the moment I decided
To move on and I ignited
Disappear into the fear
You know there ain't no coming back
When you're still carrying the past
You can't erase, separate
Cigarette in my hand
Hope you all understand

I won't be the last one in line
I finally figured out whats mine

(Chorus)

I won't be the last one in line
I finally figured out whats mine

(Chorus)

And I feel like I'm breaking
And I feel like I'm breaking inside
