

Shout Out Louds, South America

I'm so selfish, so jealous - are you out tonight?
I've been longing for the weekend - did you see me in the back alley light?
You don't know that things haven't been easy,
it's time now for you to see me.
Are you out tonight?

I am so careful, so very careful, are you out tonight?
I was talking a friend of mine, he said he saw you in the bright nightclub light. And there's a chance that a look from a stranger can give you so much more than this.
Are you here tonight? Are you out tonight?

I saw heaven. Heaven come down on me, come down.
