

Show Me The Skyline, Clocks And Calenders

Every time I sigh and smile, to nothing at all,
I'm breathing for you baby, wishing I could call
The nights last so much longer, when you're home alone
Waiting for that girl, to make her way back home.

Days and days

Counting down

Girl oh girl

Come back to town

Take my hand

Follow me

There's no place else I'd rather be

Our lips lock

And our hearts beat fast

Girl I know we can make this last

Whoa.

I've heard that good things come, to those who wait,

And girl I know you know, that I've marked that date

Everything I'm looking for, with you I've found

I'm hooked and don't want out, you've got me bound.

Days and days

Counting down

Girl oh girl

Come back to town

Take my hand

Follow me

There's no place else I'd rather be

Our lips lock

And our hearts beat fast

Girl I know we can make this last.

Whoa.

I haven't seen you in how many days?

I'm missing you so much in so many ways.

Closing my eyes, you're still all that I see

Nothing like distance will be stopping me

There's no going back now, I've fell to the ground.

I'm not getting up, cause it's you that I've found.

All these sudden emotions have taken me

To someone and somewhere I'd much rather be.

Take my hand

Follow me

There's no place else I'd rather be

Our lips lock

And our hearts beat fast

Girl I know we can make this last.

Take my hand

Follow me

There's no place else I'd rather be

Our lips lock

And our hearts beat fast

Girl I know we can make this last.
