

Siam Shade, Tears I Cried

[1]

You take the tears I cry and lift me up to the bluer skies
Yes, you gave me hope
Gave meaning to my life, I love you so

No you never asked me why
just smiled and took all the tears I cried
Baby, now I know
What life means and what I am living for

==English==
&lt;/lyrics&gt;
Beginnings will always make me feel an ending, though
I believe that there's a love somewhere that will never fade

No doubt the passing days will eventually cut the meaning of eternity into us

Counting out my tears that fell to the ground troubling you, hurting you one hundred happinesses
I'll make them for you without doubt, without straying I swear because I'm going to guard your ange

if we keep on telling our dreams drawing close to eachother on and on
No matter how sudden the steep hill is, I think we could climb it without losing heart

Without jutting your umbrella into the rain that fell you smiled and said 'It'll be sunny soon'

My tears that fall to the ground sleep within you they're changing this sky into a blue sky
We're looking for the meaning and reason for living and somehow we're starting to take hold

My tears that fall to the ground sleep within you they become a transparent and calming wind
We're looking for the meaning and reason for living
Gradually you'll keep revealing them

You take the tears I cry and lift me up to the bluer sky
Yes, you gave me hope
Gave meaning to my life, I love you so

No you never asked me why,
Just smiled and took all the tears I cried
Baby, now I know
What life means and what I am living for
