

Sigma, Legacy

Long will be the time of truth
Where the tails will be forgotten, by all Out now you can see

There're too many lies
You feel
There're too many signs

There will be
another world and life
Without lies, hates and jealousies
No more tears
and no more fears at all
Where the law will be a legacy

No one will kill another for a piece of bread Or having toys for children
But now you can see

There're too many things
The worse
Never gives the paid

There will be
another world and life
Without lies, hates and jealousies
No more tears
and no more fears at all
Where the law will be a legacy

You see There're too many lies
You feel
There're too many signs

There will be
another world and life
Without lies, hates and jealousies
No more tears
and no more fears at all
Where the law will be a legacy
