

Signs Of Betrayal, In This Skin (the Bleeding Rem

If I could show you emotions I've poured into love
I could fill up the seas and the infinite above
But now I stand here hatred and heartache my sin
From the scars I have gained
That I would not ever wish on anyone
And I can't bleed
All these things done to me
They're trapped in this skin
And they're wrapped around my veins
And I can't bleed
All these things done to me
They never will fade
Like a cold dark winter's day
If I could take back the innocence I've lost in my life
I would bury it deep so that it would never die
But now I stand here blackened and tainted like storm clouds
That tear through the sky
With the tear like rain drops falling all around
And I can't bleed
All these things done to me
They're trapped in this skin
And they're wrapped around my veins
And I can't bleed
All these things done to me
They never will fade
Like a cold dark winter's day
If these scars would heal
(If these scars would heal)
I would cut this skin
(I would cut this skin)
Just to see me...
Just to see me bleed.
