

Silence Is Sexy, Spider

I used to make plans for the years ahead
Piled them up inside my head
While time spun its web around
All the dreams I turned down
I have to face now where I have gone
'cause tomorrow has just begun

My dreaming heart slowly fell apart
Somehow I need another start
Spider, you put me in your web
And left me there in my despair

I'm stuck in my ever growing past
Time took over way too fast
Is there a way to get out of here?
I feel the spider drawing near

My dreaming heart slowly fell apart
Somehow I need another start
Spider, you put me in your web
And left me there in my despair

If I could turn back time
I'd say: Life's what you make it