

Silent Voices, End Of Days

Can you feel it burning up inside?

Can you hear the demons screaming in your mind

The end is drawing near confront your darkest fears

Blood will fall like black rain torment of souls-infernal pain

Soon we will see

the fall of the stars

at the end of days

dancing away

into the tune

of the end of days

Does darkness appeal to you the curtain that hides the truth describe what you feel inside all the signs can be seen but we're blinded by our greed

Where do we go from here

There is no turning back

Once the final die is cast

Soon we will see

At the end of days

at the end of days
