

Simon Townshend, Meet You

Thinking of loving you
Waiting to make my move
Been here a hundred times
Fluttering heart and eyes
Shaken up by romance
Looking for another chance
I'm wasting all this time
Searching out my first line
Fumbling for my glass
Dropping it as you pass
In your smile you show
Somehow I've let you know
I wanna meet you- meet you
I wanna meet you- meet you
I'm thinking I'll tap my feet
Crossing the floor in beat
Working on my excuse
To flash off the patent shoes
Suddenly on my back
Feeling my head crack
She rubs her knee and says
I wanna meet you- meet you
I wanna meet you- meet you
Deep inside me there's an action
Only love can- make it happen
Simply being me
Will somehow make you see
I wanna meet you
I'm all shaken up
Deep inside me there's an action
Only love can make it happen
Simply being me
Will somehow make you see,
naturally
I wanna meet you- meet you
I wanna meet you- meet you
