Simply Red, The Spirit Of Life

Are you the best? Or the equal of every man on this earth? I introspect. I can have anything that I could want Yet I need for nothing.......Oh nothing 'Cos the spirit of life is within you Breathing with ease through the whole of you And deeper inside is within you, searching until we find a way To jump out now, jumping around now Cause sooner or later we'll be gone What will be left is the benefit of all we've learnt before, And what's the test? It's the dignity of every man. You will need for nothing, oh nothing You will need for nothing, oh nothing
