Sinamore, Follow Into The Cry

All these years I've been alone Yearning for a change to my life Like abandoned child

I face the voidness of this so called life With all fears inside

And the time won't leave behind Any shattered tears You look into my eyes The darkness faces the light

I face the voidness of this so called life With all fears inside

Chorus:

I follow my fears, I cry Empty downhearted soul For so long in darkness I have dwelled I follow my fears, I cry Roaming alone all day
