

Sinead Lohan, If I Go

If I go before you, if I go before,
I will not be crying I will not be crying.
If I go before you, if I go before,
I will not be crying, crying anymore.
And it's only what I'm thinking.
This is only what I'm thinking.

When the day is over, when the day is done,
I will not be crying I will not be crying.
When the day is over, when the day is done,
I will not be crying, I'm not going to be the one
Who'll beg for the tears of laughter
Who'll beg for the tears of laughter.

And down the dark will fall
And who's trapping who in a dream?
And who's trapping who in reality?
And who's trapping who in a dream?

I am really tired, I wish I could sleep.
Carry me to morning, carry me to morning.
I am really tired, I wish I could sleep.
Carry me to morning, I hope my life will keep
In a place where there are no windows
In this place where there are no windows.

I wish I could be there when they call your name
I will not be crying I will not be crying.
Maybe I will know you in another time
Then I will be happy, then I will be happy
And safe in the arms of your love.
I'll be safe in the arms of your love.

And down the dark will fall
And who's trapping who in a dream?
And who's trapping who in reality?
And who's trapping who in a dream?
