

Sinead O' Connor, My Man's Gone Now

My man's gone now, ain't no use a listening for his tired footsteps, climbing up the stairs.
ah, oh, old man sorrow's come to keep me company whispering beside me when I say my prayers.
ain't that a mine working working I and I travellers journeying together to the promised land but old man sorrow's marching all the way with me, telling me I'm old now since I lost my man
since I lost my man.
old man sorrow's sitting by the fireside,
lying all night long by me in the bed.
telling me the same thing morning, noon and evening,
that I'm all alone now since my man is dead.
ah, since my man is dead.
ooohhhhooo...
