

Sirenia, Once My Light

The sorrows delight tear with in my heart
You are once my light but now you are lost Now there's no one left that I can trust

When you'll be find on both side, making down on this more
A new life it's hard to find, a joyful life it's hard to come back

Nothing it's delight, here in my mind I use to love my life but ghost times past Now I'm just a prison of the night

When you'll be find on my side I'm braking down once more Cuz new life it's hard to find A joyful life is hard to go back

If I could find my way throw the night I'd still be lost without by my side

When you'll be find on both side,
A new life it's hard to find, a joyful life it's hard to come back x 2
