

Sister Hazel, Strange Cup Of Tea

Sometimes I wake with a weary head and I wonder how I'll ever get through Then I think of the things you said how you told me to my self be true
My faith in things unseen,
My belief that it'll all work out May seem like a strange cup of tea, but if its all right with you than it all Right with me

Oh my feet I walk, with my legs I run
In my arms I'll hold another day
With my head I think, from my heart I sing
And with my hand to my face I pray

There's times I feel with the stains of life
I could just turn around, turn around walk away Then a strength like a beam from above lifts me up by the hand and it leads me to say Good things for good people you see good things they seem to all work out May seem like a strange cup of tea but if its all right with you well then its all right with me

Oh my feet I walk, with my legs I run
In my arms I'll hold another day
With my head I think, from my heart I sing
And with my hand to my face I pray

Getting by ain't enough for me
I know what I like I like what I see I'm not only flesh and blood but I'm heart and soul I know

Sometimes I feel at the end of the day was it worth while or have I settled for less I sit back and your there by my side sincerely you say, we're both so blessed Count your blessing count them one, two, three don't give up cause it'll all work out It may seem like a strange cup of tea but if it's all right with you, it's just fine with me

Oh my feet I walk, with my legs I run
In my arms I'll hoild another day
With my head I think, from my heart I sing
And with my hand to my face I pray
