

Six Feet Under, In A Vacant Grave

open the grave and taste the smell of death
the body festers
from flesh to bone
we suffer
where we lie and calcify
the nonexistent after life were just born to die
were just
born to die
termination
decomposition of human flesh
the brain it dies
the body fails
the coffin nail
a painful end to this life
in a vacant grave
the soul I desecrate
in your empty tomb
its too late for you
suffering
in constant pain
suicide
you cut your veins
to hide the lies
bleed out your life
I violate the dead
in a vacant grave
its too late for you
the body festers
eternity
we fusser
into a hole
the nonexistent after life
were just
decomposition of human flesh
the brain it dies
