Six Feet Under, In A Vacant Grave

open the grave and taste the smell of death

the body festers

from flesh to bone

we suffer

where we lie and calcify

the nonexistent after life

were just born to die

were just

born to die

termination

decomposition of human flesh

the brain it dies

the body fails

the coffin nail

a painful end to this life

in a vacant grave

the soul I desecrate

in your empty tomb

its too late for you

suffering

in constant pain

suicide

you cut your veins

to hide the lies

bleed out your life

I violate the dead

in a vacant grave

eternity

we fusser

into a hole

were just

I violate the dead
