

SkeleToon, Dreamland

Suddenly we cry for this life that's getting over
For our time can't be repaid again
But suddenly night comes bringing wisdom as a cover
Now you're welcome to your soul

I won't feel the pain, dreams are always fair

Unfold your blind soul, your dreams will guide you on
Your dreams will fail no more
I will trust till the end of my time
My deepest dreams inside

It's only during nights that your soul is shining over
Secrets fight to find your eyes again
It's only a matter of time you realize they're getting over
Well you better let them go

Unfold your blind soul, your dreams will guide you on
Your dreams will fail no more
I will trust till the end of my time
My deepest dreams inside

And only when your dream goes towards an end
You wake up and know
That you won't be feeling alone
'Cause your dream will take you home
