

Skillet, Always The Same

You never change
Always the same x3

You never change
Always the same x3

Strange how everyting
Seems to rearrange
Apart from who You are
Nations rise and fall
Build, rebuild the walls
They all fall down
But nothing shakes You
Nothing shakes You
Nothing shakes You down

Seasons come and go
But You're immutable
I hide myself in You
The shaking of our lives
Strength to strength we rise
Anchored in You
Nothing shakes You
Nothing shakes You
Nothing shakes You down

Spinning, spinning, the whole world just spins around
People to people all trying just to figure out
Moving, moving, where's the power to slow it down
Staying, standing, standing on the strength I've found
