

Skrewdriver, Open Up Your Eyes

Open up your eyes
You are in for such a surprise
You have no idea what's a goin' on
You're just being used, yeah once again

Chorus:
Open up your eyes
Tell me can you see now?
Open up your eyes
Can you see clearly?

Tell me why you're doing what you do
Is it someone else now, or is it you?
You tell me you aren't in it for the wealth
But you're just there for the profit, yeah and nothing else

(Repeat Chorus)

The left-wing and their minions using you
I tell you now there must be something you can do
At least my self-respect remains with me
'Cos I don't pretend that I'm something I can't be

You have got to try and own your own life
You keep yours, yeah, and I'm gonna try for mine
You look around and then you realize
You see so many people in a different light

(Repeat Chorus) x2
