

Skrewdriver, Skrew You

Hey you up there in your office
Hiding in your private little nest
Trying to tell the people what to listen to
But you clutch the Red flag to your breast

Chorus:

Skrew you, a stranger to the truth
Skrew you, twisting all our words
Skrew you, an upper class worker
Skrew you, to me you're just absurd

I can see right through your image
You're just another wealthy fake
You'll never break your social circle
Because you're scared for your own safety's sake

(Repeat Chorus)

I had read these stories, never really knew
Never really believed them, but now I know they're true
People always told me never trust a creep like you
And now I've read your stories, I just say skrew you

(Repeat Chorus)

You claim you're speaking for the people
Exactly which ones do you mean
A beret on your head, red star upon your collar
You don't speak for people on the streets

(Repeat Chorus) x2
