

Skunk Anansie, I Hope You Get To Meet Your Hero

I should have run, before the tears than stand alone, dead in front of you, eyes without a view I should have known and faced my fears this bitter juice, churns inside of me, secret enemy

I hope you get to meet your hero
I hope she never lets you down I hope she never tears your heart out or runs away without a sound or lets you down
lets you down
lets you down

I want to scream, till lungs are raw you slew the dream, right in front of me, you and her and he I walk away so I can die out of your view, I lose my sanity, fate discovers me

I hope you get to meet your hero
I hope she never lets you down
I hope she never tears your heart out
or runs away without a sound I hope you get to choose your weapons and fire first without a cause
I hope you get to meet your hero
I hope she's what you're waiting for
lets you down
lets you down
lets you down
lets you down
lets you down

I hope you get to meet your hero
I hope she never lets you down
I hope she never tears your heart out
or runs away without a sound
I hope you get to choose your weapons
and fire first without a cause
I hope you get to meet your hero
I hope she's what you're waiting for don't let her down
don't let her down
don't let her down
