

Sky's The Limit, We Swim Sideways

we swim sideways but have we come to this all we ever had we lost back there but i can't even tell just how far it is or how long the drive into this world it's all but recompense all we have is saving grace gone away mandate never the same we've made this raft subside so we're forced to wade from side to side i know your love is deep and wide
