Slapstick, Crooked

On the corner there's a bunch of people livin cause they haven't got a place to stay The president can't see them no he doesn't give a fuck and their anger grows and grows each day

Well I can see the government is putting on a show I can see right through it, it's fuckin crooked to the bone It's a time bomb

Somewhere in a factory there's a little guy working off his balls for the minimum wage While the big guys sits around just standing in his office making money on his ass all day

Well I can see right through it, and it's crooked to the bone It's a fuckin time bomb fuckin ready to explode It's a time bomb

Unity's the answer and we gotta join together cause it's gettin harder every day
Start a revolution, tell those fuckers in power to get the fuck out of our way
Well I can see right through it, and it's crooked to the bone I can see right through it, it's fuckin crooked to the bone It's a time bomb
It's gonna be a time bomb
