

Slash's Snakepit, Back And Forth Again

(written by: Slash / Eric Dover)

Now you've slipped away And found a place to stay Who do I congratulate But I'm happy for you W

I miss you, but what does it change This confusion feels the same Forget you and let you leave Bu

Now we're back and forth again Can we help this pointless thing Swingin' like a hinge To the place

There's nothing to say Except loneliness is strange Cause you wear the face That I never can leav

Now we're back and forth again Can we help this pointless thing Swingin' like a hinge To the place

It's such a shame how little things Can change your minds Don't just sit there filing your nails And p

Now we're back and forth again Can we help this pointless thing Swingin' like a hinge To the place