

Slightly Stoopid, Everything You Need

Like walkin' on the moon was such a good feelin'
I'm lyin' in bed and I'm starin' at the ceilin'
Can't wake up on Monday morning
Thinkin' about work makes me yawn and
As I look outside it's rainin' pourin'
Cats and dogs don't wanna think no more
And when I gotta get up and get out my bed
I'd rather sleep in late and smoke a b-load instead
Because the harder you try the less you succeed
Don't try at all and get everything you need
Because the harder you fall the more it's gon bleed
Watch where you steppin cos u best not step on me
If you're ugly on the outside it don't matter
If the beauty on the inside it over powers
If the beauty on the outside it won't matter
If you're ugly on the inside then I don't want
And if you the type of person gettin no recognition
Reach inside you pocket feel the money missin
And you wanna shoot your gunz but u got no ammunition
Open up your body, mind, soul and take a listen
Because the harder you try the less you succeed
Don't try at all and get everything you need
Because the harder you fall the more it's gon bleed
Watch where you steppin cos u best not step on me
It's always hard when you're workin for the other man
Tryin to make a dollar with the palms of my empty hands
It seems so easily but it never seems to last long
Thinkin that u got it for a minute then a minute's gone
