

Sloan, Seems So Heavy

There's an aircraft somewhere down by the river
The thing ran underground
And it was completely soundless
Until we cut it down to size
And then we galvanized it
I stare into the sky
And it keeps me flying high

Head to head, we're staring equal
Sharing empty eyes
You've given everything to me
So, if you really have to take off
I guess there's nothing I can say

Except I can't believe your plane is flying
It seems so heavy
I can't believe your plane is flying
It seems so heavy

Take a look around
You maybe think that you've found us
But nothing lies like no parade
For the highest grade
It's time to call a spade, a spade
And it takes a while to realize
That everything around you is too beautiful

She keeps me out of telling lies
And understands that giving personality
Is what she's done for me
Oh yeah

I can't believe that your plane is flying
It seems so heavy
Watching from below, I'm reminded
My girl is ready
I can't believe that your plane is flying
It seems so heavy
Watching from below, I'm reminded
My girl is ready
