

Sloppy Meateaters, Things Are Gonna Change

Suppose you were half human
And you thought with a brain
Suppose you heard the news
That things are gonna change

You owe me the biggest apology
Your face sends a pain all across of me
I'd kill for a mouthful of honesty and I am

So glad you decided
So glad it's over

My life is so unfair
My friends are never there
All my dreams disappear but I like it

Your actions left me confused
Kept me up all night
But all my sleepless nights
Were a blessing in disguise

I can't express in words
How happy that I'm through
Never in a million years
Will I ever end up like you
