

Slut, Failed On You

failed on you
failed on you now
failed on your non-affection

you might have problems so do i

my love you have the right to remain in a silence today cause anything that you say will be recorded some day if you desire you may request a transcript from the past it's about knowing and understanding these things as i sing them are you willing to answer without moon in your eyes put your hands in the air and walk off cause i'm about to set sails this night for the very last time and i'm about to break away for the very last time which doesn't mean that i'm turning the switch off and pull it all out
