

Small Brown Bike, Curoosity Killed The Cat, And I'

how hard will i fall down?

will everything fall in line for me?

there's only so much i can take until i fall down.

the numbness wears on me and when you think for a second things are going well, you start to feel the scratch, the burn, and the cold.

push your feelings aside and walk the back road home.

can i play with the second string dumbie?

here are the scissors to cut the strings.

i thought that's what went wrong, thanks for knocking me out of the tree.

it's not my fault that this isn't home, too many people involved.

thought thatwhat i felt was right, i guess i learned my lesson that night.

involved then dissolved, wash and rinse away i was wrong for playing pretend.

i was killed, i'll show them, if your curious, it won't happen again.
