Small Faces, Become Like You

If I could find a way, would I become like you, yeah? If I could throw myself away, would I become like you? Would I know just where I stood? Would my heart be made out of wood?

If I could be a brick, would I become like you, yeah? If I could give my best friend a kick, would I become like you? Would I know just where I was at? Would my brains be where I sat? Would I become like you?

(hello, they're playing it again!)
