

Snuff, Bingo

I didn't understand it
I didn't even try
I just slammed the window and watched the icy fly by
Same conversation
Same stony ground
Ears where your mouth was second time around

You don't know why, you can't decide
You won't even try
Who will lift you off your knees?
Who will stoop to kiss your tears?

You would tie your laces
But you're too young to know
Your mind already takes you places you don't wanna go
Better call the stewards
Have them inject the doubt
You won't hear the crunch
No need to find out

The answer is waiting for you
But you won't even try
One shoe on and one shoe off
Stone in your shoe and a hole in your sock
The lock's kicked off and there's piss on the floor
That's what your sense of humour's for Funny old world ha ha peculiar
Everybody takes a slice
Spare a copper for a blind man
And watch out for that knowing smile

The answer's waiting for you...