

So What, If It Only Could Be Love

(D. Beyeler)

Lady, lady, lady, you know blind love is true, maybe, maybe, maybe, it is wrong what I'm do, crying of pain, believin' in my prayers which I send up after all what did happen Is it to late, to late, to late, to restart our love again?
It hurts, it hurts, it hurts so hard, this fire in my veins, drowned in tears that I cried as you said goodbye,
I don't know what I've done, but now I'm alone
I know that I'm not Superman
and I'm not Captain Kirk
I am no living hero
I am just a little man on earth
Sure, I've got dreams and wishes but I don't reach for the stars
Only one thing is what I really want
if only it could be love!
Baby, baby, baby, where are you goin' now, tell me, tell me, tell me, what do you think about one more try, without struggle and lies,
I am sure that again will come better days
I'll be waiting, waiting, waiting, waiting, that you find back to me
I am begging, begging, begging, that you will loving me Take my hand and open your heart let me into your life and let me be a part
I know that I'm not Superman
and I'm not Captain Kirk
I am no living hero
I am just a little man on earth
Sure, I've got dreams and wishes
but I don't reach for the stars
Only one thing is what I really want
if only it could be love!
