Social Distortion, Don't Keep Me Hanging On

I woke up today
feeling pleasantly guilty yeah I was worried about the things Id said the things I'd done
and in my dreams last night I found a love so right where did she come from where'd she go?
I don't know
is she coming back?

love... don't keep me hanging on,
I should've known
it was only a dream,
just a dream
and if you remember me, I will remember you
and when I find myself,
then I'll find you
yes it's true,
then we'll meet again

I dreamed that I was calm, dreamed I was satisfied I found euphoria
and it was mine, mine all mine I thought of my past loves I've had a few now
I've had my share,
of the good and bad
makes me glad I've had both you see

love... don't keep me hanging on,
I should've known
it was only a dream,
just a dream
and if you remember me,
I will remember you
and when I find myself,
then I'll find you
yes it's true,
then we'll meet again

"in my dreams..."
