Socialburn, Walking With Shadows

And I hear voices
sing to me
they sound so sweet and yet so off beat
And I feel strange
When I'm in your arms
It's almost like I'm walking with shadows

If I could be the one that you wanted
I'd change
And everything you ever wanted
You'd have it
Just because you're the one I love
And I could never feel this way forever
Cause I know one day I'll die
With the memory of the good times
With the memory of the one time
That I had you

The false impressions they go so deep
They make me think that I can't sleep
I havn't slept for days
And I wish I had one last chance
To make you see
What I want
Make you feel what I need
But my chances are gone now
I can only walk with the shadows you leave

If I could be the one that you wanted
Ohh I'd change
And everything you ever wanted
You'd have it
Just because you're the one I love
And I could never feel this way forever
Cause I know one day I'll die
With the memory of the good times
With the memory of the one time
That I had you

If I could be the one that you wanted
I'd change
