Sodom, Resurrection

(Dedicated To: Tom's Dad, who died too early)

Your soul disappears in eyes of blue With dignity and lonely lust The moon is shining bright to you Angels adore your mortal dust

Welcome to the paradise Great master's hands will rise To bring you to the holy place Eternal life for a human race

Resurrection
Flesh to your bones
Everlasting fortune
You are born

Resurrection
With flowers of gold
Give credence to heaven
Believe in god

Your spirit was willing but your flesh was weak Don't wanna leave the world of lies They're standing around when you go to sleep And give you no chance to say goodbye

Welcome to the paradise Great master's hands will rise To bring you to the holy place Eternal life for a human race

Resurrection
Flesh to your bones
Everlasting fortune
You are born

With flowers of gold
Give credence to heaven
Believe in god

Now you go through a time of revival Wisdom from above

A kingdom where you find your idol Worship, liberty and love
