

Sofa Surfers, Say Something

Original boy
Feet of clay, head in the dirt
Looking around for the way
But the signs have all changed

And its hurting inside

Your mind's not your own
But its you in the fire
And its you you on the line
And the wall just gets higher

And its hurting inside
Cause you're on the wrong side

You keep hurting yourself
Cause the bruises don't show
It's the world that you hate
And you don't even know it...

And its hurting inside
Cause you're on the wrong side

Say something, do something
Or you'll lose it all
You'd better change something
Just wanting means nothing
You don't get it
And you don't risk nothing
Say something, do something
Or you'll lose it
Oh, you'd better change something
Just wanting means nothing
You don't risk nothing

Say something, do something...
